MEDICINAL

THE MICROSCOPE.

A careful microscopic examination and chemical analysis of the urine, is a valuable aid in determining the nature of many chronic diseases, particularly those of the nervous system, blood, liver, kidneys, and bladder. These aids make it possible to treat such diseases successfully at a distance, without personal examination of the patient. Thus Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Inflammation of the Bladder, Gravel, and other Diseases of the Urinary Organs are successfully treated; Nervous Debility, Exhaustion, Dropsy, Liver Disease, and many other Chronic Maladies are cured without seeing the patient. Write for question blanks, treatise, and other information, describing case, and inclose 10 cents, in stamps, to pay postage.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATHOLICS AND K. OF P.

A delegation from Fall River and Providence, Mass., who came to Washington last night bearing a petition to Monsignor Sotoli that the edict forbidding all Catholics to be members of secret societies be suspended in the case of Knights of Pythias, have returned home and announce that the papal legate has temporarily granted their request until the Pope can consider the petition. The delegates secured an audience with Monsignor Sotoli last Saturday and presented the petition with the statement that there are 250 French Canadian Catholics who are members of Lafayette Lodge, K. of P., in Fall River, and 107 Catholic members of a Providence lodge. Monsignor Sotoli was surprised at the facts brought out after a day's consideration announced to the delegates that he would issue a decree suspending the papal edict temporarily. He promised to bring the matter to the attention of the Vatican, but held no hope that the edict would be changed or that his own temporary suspension of the same would be indorsed. Under the provisions of the suspension the Catholics who are enrolled in the K. of P. will be allowed to make their Easter duty and pending a reconsideration of the question at Rome the threat of excommunication will not be put into effect.

The delegation of Fall River and Providence gentlemen who visited Washington for the purpose of invoking the good offices of Mgr. Sotoli in behalf of Catholic Pythians in those cities have slightly misconceived the monsignor's intentions according to the interpretation placed thereon at the legation yesterday. Father Rooker, private secretary to the monsignor, said:

"These gentlemen presented two cases which were conceived to possess peculiar features entitling them to special consideration, and the matter was referred to Bishop Harkins, of Providence, R. I., for action. The two lodges, as stated, are composed entirely of Catholics, and it was suggested to Bishop Harkins that there were no reasons to the contrary that had not been presented at the legation he might permit the members to perform their required church duties at Easter. Two members of the lodges are said to be dying and they were desirous of retaining their membership in the order to save the insurance attaching to their families. This Mgr. Sotoli thought might be permitted and so advised Bishop Harkins. The whole matter, however, is one of local discipline and rests with the bishop for final determination. There will be no suspension of the edict against membership in the order and no decree will be issued. Everything that has been received from Rome since the edict was published looks to a more rigorous enforcement rather than any relaxation."

Incidentally Father Rooker stated that so far as the legation was concerned there was no information that Bishop Spaulding, of Peoria, was to be made coadjutor Bishop of Boston, with the right of succession to Bishop Williams.

VICTIMIZED BY AN OLD ROGUE.—Farmer Helsey, a prosperous young man, rode into Edinburg, Va., on Monday and hitched his horse in front of Holtzman's Hotel. A few minutes later an old man came around the corner and, seeing the horse, deliberately unfastened the saddle and disappeared with it. Farmer Helsey, an hour later, mounted his horse bareback and set out to capture the thief. He overtook him five miles from town. The aged offender acknowledged that he took the saddle and had sold it for $2.

"If you don't believe me," said the old man, "I'll go back with you and prove it. But I shan't walk," he added. "Well, get on the horse and I'll walk," said farmer Helsey, alighting. He was pleased at the thought of handing the thief over to the authorities.

The old man straddled the animal, and Helsey stepped in front, holding the reins. They started leisurely back to town. The old man entertained the young farmer with stories of the hardships he had encountered through life. He had stolen the saddle, he said, solely because he needed $2. He might have got more for it, but did not try. He thought that Frank and apparently truthful had stolen the horse and half resolved to forgive him, when the old man suddenly applied his cane vigorously to the horse's side and the animal plunged off wildly down the road, and disappeared, leaving Helsey, a victim of misplaced confidence, minus both saddle and horse.

He footed it back to town, and then a systematic search was made for the aged thief, which was kept up for twenty-four hours. He was captured yesterday, at Wheatfield, but had traded the horse for a $10 gun. During the night he had broken into a distillery and made merry. When locked in jail he took things philosophically, and what expressed indifference as to his fate. The officer who caught him is seventy-five. Farmer Helsey recovered his property.

MEDICINAL

The electric thrill of health

is never felt by those who are run down—out of sorts—poor in blood—badly nourished—dyspeptic. That would be impossible, and so the delight of living is lost!

Brown's Iron Bitters

brings weak people up to the standard of health—feeds the blood—acts on the nerves—strengthens the muscles. It brings the blush of youth to weary women's cheeks—is a boon to the invalid—refreshes and renews life in the aged—nourishes the weak, puny child—briefly said, it gives strength, and strength cannot exist without perfect health. It is a necessity in every family. It does not injure the teeth or cause constipation.
